PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Despite Australia's reputation for high-quality research and a robust healthcare system, nearly 50% of clinical trials experience delays due to fragmented ethics review processes and inconsistent approval timelines across states. Additionally, inconsistent interpretation of regulatory requirements among HRECs and study sites frequently results in repeat submissions and extended review cycles.

This certified program will provide you with the regulatory clarity, operational structure, and practical tools needed to navigate these challenges and deliver trials on time and in full compliance. You will gain a clear understanding of the TGA CTN/CTX pathways, the National Statement on Ethical Conduct, HREC expectations, and the practical application of ICH-GCP E6(R2)/E6(R3) across Australia. The curriculum covers the full clinical trial lifecycle—including planning, feasibility, budgeting, contracting, site initiation, monitoring, safety oversight, quality management, and close-out—ensuring you can manage every stage with confidence.

Through real-world examples, you will build practical competency in Quality-by-Design, risk-based quality management (RBQM), and structured risk mitigation, including identifying critical data, critical processes, and quality tolerance limits. You will also learn how to coordinate cross-functional teams in Clinical Operations, Data Management, Biostatistics, Pharmacovigilance, and Medical Affairs, while addressing common challenges such as data integrity issues, remote monitoring limitations, and cross-team delays.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The program will strengthen your expertise in informed consent, adverse event reporting, safety reconciliation, and documentation excellence—especially Trial Master File (TMF) integrity and TGA inspection readiness through strong oversight frameworks. You will also gain hands-on experience with monitoring plans, hybrid oversight models, KPI-driven performance management, and end-of-trial responsibilities such as Clinical Study Report (CSR) preparation, archiving, and regulatory notifications.

By integrating regulatory knowledge with operational and project-management best practices, this program prepares you to deliver efficient, high-performing, and inspection-ready clinical trials across Australia's complex research environment.

Upon successful completion, you will attain the Certified Australia Clinical Trials Project Manager (CCT™) designation, a globally recognized certification that validates your professional competence to lead, manage, and oversee complex clinical trials in compliance with HREC, and ICH-GCP (R3) standards. This industry-recognized certification has lifelong validity and positions you as a trusted leader in the Australia clinical research and project management.
